MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman flew into Moscow today to bid for Soviet Premier Khrushchev's support in keeping the peace in Laos.

Harriman arrived with a short message from President Kennedy to the Soviet leader. He came on a Soviet airliner from London after emergency talks with British and French officials on the growing Laotian crisis.

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON (AP)—W. Averell Harriman left by plane for Moscow today to appeal to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to restore peace in Laos and keep the strategic Southeast Asian kingdom neutral.

The U.S. undersecretary of state was ordered to the Soviet capital by President Kennedy, who sent along a special message for Khrushchev.

Harriman said the United States wants the Soviet leader "to take action to quiet the situation in Laos and put it back on the rails again." He said the Communist accusation that the United States is responsible for the flareup in Laos is "most insulting and utterly incorrect."

The U.S. troubleshooter, who was America's chief negotiator at the Geneva conference on Laos last year, has been conferring with French and British officials on the new crisis.

Harriman was due in Moscow early tonight. The U.S. Embassy

Cloudy Skies Keeps Most of State Cold

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cloudy skies covered all of Arkansas today and most areas had long-awaited rain.

Heavy showers were scattered, however, with some sections receiving almost an inch of precipitation and others less than one-tenth inch in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m.

But showers were continuing over most of the state with a good possibility that most areas would get adequate moisture after a lengthy dry spell.

The Arkansas weather was controlled by a high over Ohio with a cool front extending from the high to a weak low over the Texas Panhandle. The leading edge of the cool air mass moved southeastward during the day.

Movement of the front was expected to trigger more showers in Arkansas through Saturday.

Highs between 65 and 78 were forecast for the state today with tonight's lows predicted from 50 in the northwest to 64 in the southeast.

Wednesday night's lows ranged from 47 degrees at Harrison to 54 at El Dorado.

Rainfall reports ranged from .10 inch at El Dorado to .88 at Fayetteville.

Producers Start 5.9 Million Chicks

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas producers started 5,928,000 broiler chicks during the week ended April 20, the Crop Reporting Service estimated today.

This is about the same as the total placements in the state, figure for the previous week. Of 5,003,000 chicks were hatched in Arkansas and 925,000 came from other states.

There were 312,000 broiler chicks shipped out of the state during the week.

AP&L Advances John T. Meek

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—John T. Meek, who has been assistant Arkansas Power & Light Co. Southwest Division manager since 1950, has been promoted to executive assistant to the president and the chairman of the board at Little Rock.

He replaces William McCollum Jr., who has been named assistant to the Little Rock Division manager.

Senior Play Set for Friday Night

The Senior play, "No Boys Allowed" which will be given Friday night, April 26, in the Hope High School auditorium is a gay, delightful comedy that moves like lightning with a wonderful cast—the high school girls, a mad and merry bunch; the pesky kid sister who can't wait till she is old enough to have dates; Victoria, the cook, who quits every five minutes; and the determined boys.

Ushers for the play will be Karen Shepard, Patsy Smith, Dora Ann King, Jeannie Lowe, Mary Alice Caston, Janice Martin, and Janey Voss.

Poultry Group Favors Probe of Industry

Members of the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Producers Association voted approval this week to the proposed investigation of the poultry industry in Arkansas by the Packers and Stockyards Division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The federal district attorney in Fort Smith has filed charges against two northwest Arkansas poultry companies because they have refused to permit federal investigators to examine their books.

If the integrated poultry interests are innocent of the charges which have been made against them they should have no fear of an investigation, declared supporters of the resolution which was adopted at the meeting of the local association at the Bodcaw high school.

T. J. Silvey of Bodcaw and Arthur Wimmell of McCaskill, were re-elected president and vice president respectively and E. C. Turner of Rosston, was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the local association.

The following were elected as directors: R. H. Tye Sr., Emmet, H. D. Cox, Buckner; John Wester Washington; E. N. Grisham, Emmet; A. M. Miller, Rosston; Homer Cobb, Hope; W. C. Baker of Magnolia; Earl May, Buckner; T. W. Ridling, Hope; Grover Thompson, Hope; Carl Dalrymple, Prescott and Finis Odom, Palmos.

President Silvey, Arthur Wimmell, H. D. Cox and Finis Odom reported to the growers on the meeting they attended recently in Waldron where Dal Ferry, executive secretary of the U.S. Poultry and Egg Producers Assn. of Washington, D.C., was speaker.

The next meeting of the association will be held Monday night, May 20, in Bodcaw.

2 Additions Accepted by Commission

Two proposed subdivisions to the City of Hope have been tentatively approved by the City Planning Commission.

A proposed subdivision to be known as Penny's Acres was submitted by Newt Pentecost. The area is along Highway 67 and outside the eastern city limits. The Commission gave preliminary approval to the proposed plan.

The Commission also reviewed the proposed subdivision to be known as the "Westwood Addition." This is an area on 16th Street south of Southland Heights.

The group recommended the city directors adopt this plan upon installation of utilities and street development in accordance with standards prescribed by the City of Hope.

Osceola Plant Workers Vote on Union

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP)—Six hundred and fifty workers at the Osceola American Greeting Cards Corp. plant were eligible to vote in today's union election.

The election was called to allow workers to say whether they want to be represented by the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Papermill Workers Union.

The National Labor Relations Board ordered the election after the union complained of interference by the company in attempts to organize the workers.

An NLRB examiner had recommended that the company be forced to cease such activities.

The union asked U.S. District in Jonesboro Monday for a temporary restraining order against enforcement of an Osceola anti-union ordinance.

It requires that union organizers pay the city $1,000 a day while they are in town. The ordinance also requires that organizers be fingerprinted by police. The complaint asks that the ordinance be declared unconstitutional.

Commemoration

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Bar Foundation will sponsor a commemorative service May 5, at which a stone marker will be placed at the grave of Daniel Ringo, first chief justice of the state. Ringo was born in Kentucky and began his law practice in Arkadelphia in 1820.

Refugees in State

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. Greta Alonzo Santa Cruz, her daughter Consuelo, 20, and her sons Guido 16 and Jorge, 13, are the family group of refugees from Cuba to arrive in Pine Bluff. Their move to Pine Bluff was sponsored by the congregation of the Immanuel Baptist Church.

Journalist Week Being Observed

This week has been set aside by Congress to honor the high school journalist.

In observance of the Week, the Hope High School chapter of the Quill and Scroll Honorary Journalism Society announced in the April 24 edition of the Hi-Lights the 1963-64 staffs of the Hi-Lights and Bobcat.

The Hi-Lights staff presented a brief program in the auditorium after which all students were invited to attend a "Hi-Lights Reading Party" in the student center.

This group and the sponsor, Mrs. Mary Nell Turner, will be campaigning for the presidency of the Arkansas High School Press Association when they attend the state convention in Little Rock April 26-27. Al Weisenberger is the campaign manager.

Kennedy in Defense of Cuban Policy

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has challenged critics of his Cuban policy to say whether they advocate going to war to topple Fidel Castro.

That's the question being sidestepped by those who call for a more militant policy against Cuba's Communist regime, Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

And except for going to war, the President declared, "It would seem to me that we have pretty much done all of those things that can be done to demonstrate hostility to the concept of a Soviet satellite in the Caribbean."

Kennedy addressed himself to two recent Republican critics—former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York—as the Cuban question vied with the tense situation in Laos for preeminence at the conference.

"Unleashing the exiles cannot do the job" of toppling Prime Minister Castro, Kennedy said in rejecting a proposal put forward last Saturday by Nixon.

And Kennedy rejected outright Keating's contention that Soviet troops arriving in Cuba in recent weeks have about equaled the number withdrawn.

"It is our best information that 4,000 or 5,000 have left since January, and that there has not been an equal number come in. In fact, much, much less, 300 or 400 at the most," the President said.

Lawrence Talks at Kiwanis Meet

Ray Lawrence of the Nashville Production Credit Association was guest speaker before Hope Kiwanis club Tuesday on a program arranged by Ben Owen.

Mr. Lawrence, formerly of Hope, discussed what he called "Space-Age Farm Financing" in which he traced the beginning of farm financing by government agencies 30 years ago and the expansion to present day facilities.

He pointed out that the Production Credit Association, which embraces seven southwestern Arkansas counties has a total of 1,115 farm loans totaling in excess of $15 millions. He also said that in Arkansas during the year 1962, the average charge off was 17 percent, while in the seven southwestern Arkansas counties the charge-off was only 3.8.

Guests included: Bill Holms, Larry Lipmeyer, Claud Sutton, Dave Parris Harry Crosse, and Dr. Lloyd Guerin.

Girl Scouts Plan Family Roundup

Girl Scouts and parents are urged to attend the Girls Scout Family Round-Up to be held at the Coliseum and grounds in the Fair Park beginning at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 27.

In addition to a camp fire ceremony, for the girls, the parents will be entertained with a film of Camp High Points under the direction of Mrs. Fred McElroy and Mrs. Gordon Tye. Miss Gail Gilbert, Conifer Council, District Advisor, from Texarkana and Mrs. Jack Gardner, local Trainer, will inform the parents of the program charge effective September, 1963.

Following the above activities, the parents will also be invited to a ceremony to destroy an old and obsolete American flag. An occasion not many people get to witness.

Arts, Talent Meet Slated Tonight

The Elementary Arts and Talent Division of the Hempstead County Rural Meet will be held in the Washington Gymnasium on April 25 at 7:30 p.m.

First, second, and third place winners will be selected in instrumental music; vocal solos, duets, trios, and choral groups; dramatic readings; and comedy. These winners will be announced immediately after the program.

Art work of the elementary students from Okay, Spring Hill, Guernsey, Bleavins, and Washington will be on display.

Alabama Warned by RFK U.S. Law Will Be Enforced

By REX THOMAS

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy assured Gov. George Wallace today that he preferred to leave integration in Alabama up to the state but warned that court rulings will be enforced.

After an hour and 20 minute conference with Kennedy, Wallace declared that his position was the same as before and he referred repeatedly to his campaign promise to stand in the schoolhouse door to prevent desegregation.

Both Kennedy and Wallace described the meeting as pleasant and both agreed that neither had changed his views.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—City police arrested 18 white segregationists demonstrating in front of the State Capitol today shortly before Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy arrived for a conference with Gov. George Wallace.

Kennedy arrived at the Capitol about 15 minutes after police arrested the demonstrators.

A parking lot in front of the Capitol had been cleared for Kennedy's arrival, but instead his car pulled in about 150 feet from the Capitol steps on a city street.

Living Costs Edge Up to New Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs edged up one-tenth of one per cent in March to a record.

Higher costs of used cars clothing and home ownership items, principally real estate taxes and water rates, boosted the Labor Department's consumers price index to 106.2 per cent of the 1957-59 average.

The old high of 106.1 in the index was first reached last September and also stood at that level in February.

While establishing a living cost peak, the March rise was so slight in practical effect on the household budget as to be almost insignificant. It means that it cost $10.62 in March to buy the same goods and services that cost $10.61 in February.

Arnold Chase, Labor Department price expert, told newsmen that he expects the recent selective steel price increases will have a very minor effect on living cost levels.

He said items containing steel figure as only a fraction of those measured in computing the government living cost index.

But if other industries follow steel's lead and also raise prices the effect at the consumer level would be significant, Chase implied.

About 40,000 workers, including some 30,000 employees of the Douglas, Northrup and Hayes Aerospace firms, will receive 1.1 percent hourly wage increases based on living cost adjustments geared to the government index.

Some 25,000 other workers also will receive varying pay increases based on local living cost indexes prepared by the government. The latter group includes some 10,000 supermarket employees in the Los Angeles area.

The March living cost level was 1.1 per cent higher than a year earlier, primarily due to higher prices now for food and housing, although prices have also gone up for all major types of goods and services.

In March, food prices declined four-tenths of one per cent with lower prices for meats, fresh vegetables and eggs. Food prices were 1.4 per cent higher than a year earlier.

Housing costs averaged three-tenths of one per cent higher in March, and transportation costs were up two-tenths of one per cent.

Used car prices rose 2.3 per cent, the same increase posted in February, but used car prices still have not made up for their sharp seasonal drop in January. New car prices declined eight-tenths of one per cent in March.

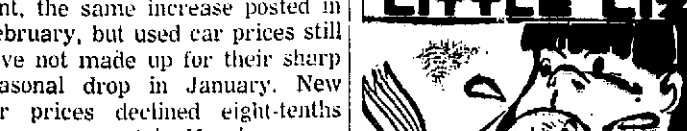

Chase forecast that there probably would be no change in living costs from March to April. He said the food price level is expected to remain the same while declines are anticipated for gasoline and other fuels. Further used car price increases are expected.

Balks Could Bring Change in the Rules

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

The four-letter word, BALK, touched off the biggest on-the-field dispute of the season over the new game of baseball as played in Warren Giles' National League, overshadowing a fine three-hitter pitched by Johnny Podres in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 7-0 victory over Cincinnati Wednesday night.

The balks calls that have continually disrupted games under the new strict enforcement of the rule requiring a pitcher to stop for a full second before delivering interrupted play for about one-half hour during the second inning of the Dodgers-Reds game.

The explosion came after plate umpire Shag Crawford called two balks on Reds' starter Jim Owens, enabling Johnny Roseboro to move from first to third base. He scored on a single by Willie Davis.

Then, pitching to Podres, Owens twice paused unusually long before throwing to the plate. Crawford singled a warning. Owens stretched and fired. Crawford yelled balk, Owens yelled something else, and towels and players made their way out of the Cincinnati dugout in equal numbers. At the same time, Owens was ejected for injecting his comments.

Augie Donatelli, whose umpiring team has called 32 of the 67 balks enforced in the NL, then sent the entire Reds team, with the exception of relief pitcher John Tisouris and catcher Johnny Edwards, to the dressing room. Fred Hutchinson talked and talked, and Tisouris warmed up endlessly.

When Hutch had finished his dissertation on balks the Reds' players were requested back on the field and the game resumed. Podres needed little aide, but got it from the balks—one on Tisouris in the seventh inning sent Nate Oliver home from third—and home runs by Johnny Roseboro, Roseboro, Ron Fairly and Frank Howard. Podres also was charged with one balk.

Travelers Lay It on Rochester

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Arkansas Travelers halted a 5-game winning streak of the Rochester Red Wings Wednesday, hammering out a 17-5 victory to remain in first place in the southern division of the International baseball league.

Other games Wednesday night saw Toronto beat Jacksonville 9-1, Indianapolis defeat Richmond 5-3 and Buffalo shut out Columbus 9-0. Atlanta downed Syracuse 5-2. Arkansas got two runs off starter Bill Short in the second and three more in the third, but the Red Wings came back with matching scores.

The Travelers went ahead to stay with a run in the fourth off reliever Herm Starrette. Then Arkansas opened the gates against Starrette, Nat Martinez and Pat Gillick.

Bobby Locke, winning pitcher, relieved Bill Smith in the third and pitched two hit ball, fanning six and walking two. He gained his first victory.

Locke walked twice, homered, doubled and drove in five runs. Rookie Richie Allen contributed a homer, three hits and also drove in five runs and Mickey Harrington and John Upham got three hits each.

Earl Robinson homered for the Red Wings in the second inning, driving in two of Rochester's five runs.

Last week Arkansas took a two-game series against Rochester.

You can't blame Syracuse for wishing Jeff Long wasn't on the Atlanta roster.

The big Cracker first baseman, 4-3 and moved into sole possession of first place.

Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 6-4, Milwaukee edged Houston 4-3 and the New York Mets shut out the Chicago Cubs 2-0.

Kansas City took over the top spot in the American League with a 5-0 victory over Baltimore, the Chicago White Sox downed the New York Yankees 6-4 in 12 innings, Detroit nipped the Los Angeles Angels 4-3 in 15 innings, Minnesota defeated Washington 6-4 and Cleveland blanked Boston 2-0.

The Cardinals, shutout on one hit by Billy Pierce for five innings, erupted for four runs in the sixth. Curt Simmons went the distance, spacing nine hits, for his third victory without a loss.

Rookie third baseman Bob Bailey hit a three-run homer in the fourth inning and Roberto Clemente drove in the winning runs with a seventh inning double for the Pirates. The Phillies had tied the score in the fifth on Wes Covington's two-run homer off Bob Friend, now 3-0. Chris Short was the loser.

Home runs by Eddie Mathews and Mack Jones gave Warren Spahn the support he needed to go all the way against the Colts for the 330th triumph of his career. Dick Farrell took the loss.

Carl Willey, acquired from the Braves, held the Cubs to three hits for his first victory as the Mets posted their fifth victory in six games. The loser was Bob Buhl.

Americans Add Medals in Pan-Am Play

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—America's array of stars was poised today for more Pan-American Games glory after plucking 19 gold medals during the first five days of this fourth neighbor vs. neighbor athletic carnival.

A big spurge for gold medals is expected tonight from U.S. swimmers, who already own five of Uncle Sam's firsts in the Games which end May 5.

The swimming aces are odds-on favorites to harvest four more gold medals, in the finals of the men's 200-meter butterfly and the women's 200 breaststroke, 100 freestyle and 400 freestyle.

If they are successful, U.S. athletes will have bagged at least 13 gold medals in two days, a gesture which would pretty well confirm what everyone is already thinking—that America is going to outclass completely all other countries in this year's Pan-American Games.

No other country had more than one gold medal after Wednesday's action.

The Americans put on dazzling displays Wednesday, a day good for nine gold medals, in women's springboard diving, wrestling, rifle and pistol shooting, weightlifting, baseball and men's and women's basketball.

A couple of U.S. tennis stars, Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., and Carol Caldwell of Santa Monica, Calif., provided the day's disappointment. Both lost in the women's singles semifinals.

Yolanda Ramirez of Mexico eliminated Miss Hard 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, and Maria Bueno of Brazil defeated Miss Caldwell 6-4, 6-1.

Barbara Ellen McAlister of Phoenix, a nifty 21-year-old brunette secretary, touched off the gold medal parade Wednesday by winning the 3-meter springboard diving championship for the Yankees, who in addition to gold medals have 10 silver and nine bronze medals.

The wrestlers grabbed three gold medals Wednesday night.

who singled home the winning run in the opening International League game between the two clubs last week at Atlanta, powdered a bases-loaded double in the 12th inning Wednesday night to spoil Syracuse's home opener. The Atlanta victory scissored a six-game winning streak for the Chiefs.

Syracuse had a 2-0 lead going into the ninth inning when Cracker outfielder Mike Shannon hoisted a wind-blown wrong-field homer over the right field fence with a mate aboard to tie the score. After Long's big blow batted in two runs in the 12th, Shannon brought in an insurance run with a sacrifice fly.

A shivering crowd of 4,101 watched the afternoon game in 40-degree weather. Reliever Bob Humphreys was credited with the win while Leo Marenette took the loss.

Warner (Babe) Birrer picked a three-hit shutout for Buffalo as his mates bombed Columbus starter Tom Parsons for five runs in the second inning. The 33-year-old Birrer, a native of Buffalo, had been scheduled to pitch last Saturday, Monday and Tuesday nights, but all three games were postponed. This didn't hinder the right-hander from picking up his first 1963 win.

Joe Christopher and Johnny Powers each hit his fourth homer from Buffalo. Both formerly played for Columbus.

Toronto handed the stumbling Jacksonville Suns their seventh loss against two triumphs as veteran righthander Steve Ridzik hurled a four-hitter for the Maple Leafs. A chilled crowd of 5,165, the lowest attendance in Maple Leaf stadium history for an opener, looked on.

Ridzik received solid hitting support from his teammates who collected only eight hits off three Jacksonville pitchers but made them count by scoring their runs in bunches. Shortstop Pepper Thomas smashed a bases-loaded homer in the sixth inning to ice the game.

A steady five-hit pitching job by Joe Shipley led the Indianapolis Indians to victory over Richmond. The Indians scored all five of their runs in the third inning, all after two were out.

Shipley's performance was the first full-distance pitching job the Indians had received this season. Ed Merritt took the loss for Richmond.

Refugee Hurls Redlegs to Shutout Win

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Orlando Pena, a refugee from the other world of the National League, and the little green men have taken over.

Pena, a skinny, 155-pounder who once worked for the Cincinnati Reds, blanked Baltimore 5-0 as he and his Kansas City teammates barged into first place in the American League Wednesday night with a half-game lead over Chicago and Baltimore.

The White Sox retained second place, just 7 points back of the A's on the strength of a 6-4, 12-inning triumph over the Yankees in New York. Al Kaline's 15th-inning homer was the difference in the Tigers' 4-3 edge over the Los Angeles Angels at Detroit. Minnesota's Camilo Pascual won his first of the year in the Twins' 6-4 victory at Washington, and the Indians beat Boston 2-0 at Cleveland.

In the National League, St. Louis took over first place on a 4-3 victory over San Francisco; Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 6-4; New York shut out Chicago 2-0; Milwaukee edged Houston 4-3 and Los Angeles blanked Cincinnati 7-0. Seven more balks were called during the day, running the NL's total to 67.

Pena, a slim right-hander, had to work his way out of three late-inning juries to preserve the shutout, and didn't have the victory nailed down until the A's broke loose for four runs in the ninth. Pena was rapped for 10 hits, but the Orioles left 10 runners stranded and had two others thrown out at the plate in the sixth inning.

Wayne Causey singled in the winning run in the seventh against loser Mike McCormick. Ed Charles' two-run single highlighted the ninth-inning burst against Stu Miller.

Mike Hershberger singled in two White Sox runs in the 12th at New York. Hoyt Wilhelm picked up the victory, allowing only one hit in 3-13 innings of relief, but allowed the Yankees to tie it in the ninth when one of his deliveries got away from the catcher. The Yankees' sixth pitcher, Luis Arroyo, was the loser.

Kaline tied it for the Tigers when he doubled in two seventh-inning runs, then won it with his wrong field drive in the 15th.

Pascual, a 20-game winner with the Twins last season, struck out 12 enroute to his first 1963 victory. The Twins staked him to a early 5-0 lead, but he had to stand off a Senator rally in the fifth.

Ronald Finley of Corvallis, Ore., won the first of an anticipated eight gold ones for the U.S. wrestling powerhouse by outpointing Mario Tovar of Mexico in the featherweight division.

Jack Barden of Port Huron, Mich., and Jim Ferguson of San Francisco followed with triumphs in the light heavyweight and middleweight classes, respectively.

The U.S. pistol team scored 2,170 points in besting Canada, second with 2,146, and Brazil, third with 2,104. Made up of Army and Marine personnel, the team consists of Capt. Franklin Green of San Antonio, Tex., who won the individual pistol shoot; Sgt. Robert Meagher, also of San Antonio, and Capt. Paul Shank of Quantico, Va.

Sgt. Gary Andersen of Axtell, Neb., won the gold medal in small bore rifle, three-position shooting. The United States won the team gold medal, with Canada finishing second and Peru third.

The team which rolled up 4,529 points to Canada's 4,351 includes Andersen, M-Sgt. Bill Krilling of Buffalo Lake, Mich., Capt. Verle Wright Jr., of Ft. Benning, Ga., and Marine Sgt. David Boyd of Belleville, N.J.

The weightlifters waltzed off with the two other gold medals U.S. athletes added to their collection. Former Olympic champion Tommy Kono of Honolulu scored in the light heavyweight division after Joseph Puleo of York, Pa., won the middleweight class.

Both the men's and women's basketball teams proved much too much for Canadian aces of the dribble-and-shoot art. The U.S. men's team clubbed Canada 80-47 while the women were just as impressive in their scrap with the Canadian girls, winning by 79-39. Like the basketball teams, America's baseballers have not won any medals—yet. But they probably got just as much kick out of Wednesday's action as some of the teams which did win medals.

The U.S. baseball team, with right-hander Doug Mills of the University of Illinois tossing a five-hitter, clobbered Brazil 13-3. Cuba, which stunned the Yankees' first game, was losing, meanwhile, to Mexico 5-2. The Yankees are now 3-1 and Cuba 2-1.

Celtics Win Basketball Pro Playoff

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Boston Celtics, combining a resolution to win with the wisdom of "old age," proved Wednesday night that they still dominate the National Basketball Association.

They gained their fifth consecutive NBA title by taking the playoff series with the Los Angeles Lakers, 4 games to 2. They beat the Lakers 112-109 in the sixth game, mainly on a very hot second period in which they outscored Los Angeles 33-17.

The Lakers began narrowing the gap in the second half, got as close as one point, and then Tom Heinsohn stole a pass from Jerry West to Rudy LaRusso, dribbled the length of the court, and sank a layup.

It was the big play of the game, agreed both coaches, Red Auerbach of Boston and Fred Schaus of Los Angeles. It boosted Boston's lead to 106-102, and while Kennedy shook hands with spectators.

Riot-trained highway patrolmen, along with city police, guarded the Capitol against possible violence and watched at first while the white segregationists gathered.

After they began parading in front of the Capitol, Asst. Police Chief D. H. Lackey, with a loudspeaker in his hand, ordered the demonstrators to disperse because they had no permit to parade.

The marchers, led by retired Adm. John Crommelin, refused to move. Then Lackey told them, "You are being arrested for violating a city ordinance."

Crommelin was not among those arrested.

A Confederate flag flew from the Capitol dome, where the Alabama State flag normally hangs. A floral wreath was laid across the bronze star on the Capitol steps where Jefferson Davis became president of the Confederacy a century ago. The wreath was adorned with a small Confederate flag.

The white demonstrators carried signs identifying some of them with the national States Rights party.

One of the signs said: "Alabama will resist with vigah."

Kennedy and Wallace, himself an ardent segregationist, were all but certain to talk about racial problems in the only state still without integrated public schools and a state newly beset by Negro demonstrations.

Crommelin, who has been active in the national States Rights party, was sidelined by the Navy in 1950 after criticizing Defense Department policies. Since then, he has run repeatedly for public office in Alabama, but has never been elected.

Kennedy said in advance of the meeting that it was a courtesy visit, and that it would be up to the governor to decide what matters were brought up.

But Wallace, in consenting to the conference requested by the attorney general, said he would tell the President's brother that the people of Alabama resent federal intervention in their affairs.

The fiery Wallace, who has sworn to disobey any federal court school integration order, agreed to the meeting after receiving a telegram from Kennedy last week.

Kennedy conferred late Wednesday with federal attorneys and other law enforcement officials representing U.S. agencies throughout the state.

Kennedy's arrival brought white supremacy pickets to a television station where he appeared for an interview.

Kennedy sent federal marshals here two years ago after the arrival of "Freedom Riders" touched off bloody rioting outside a bus station and at a Negro church.

Kennedy, facing reporters at a news conference Wednesday, expressed hope that racial problems in the future can be solved in the courts "and not in the streets."

sources," Kennedy said, inviting Keating to supply the government with the sources of his information for purposes of evaluation.

The President said he is certain neither he nor Keating is challenging the other's good faith—a point seconded by Keating in a statement after the conference. But, in it, Keating said: "I stand by my figures. I believe that if the President will consult his own intelligence community he will revise his estimates upward."

The senator added: "Perhaps we are again involved in a question of semantics. If you count all those going in as troops and all those going in as technicians, it obviously would be accurate to say there has been a reduction of troops."

Keating said he has quoted only information that came from or was confirmed by official government sources.

FLEET HEADS FOR LAOS — Units of the U.S. Seventh Fleet are steaming closer to Laos in a precautionary move and officials said the U.S. is considering the possibility of sending troops into neighboring Thailand. The concern over the Communist threat to Laos was underlined by the unexpected return of U.S. Ambassador Kenneth Young to Washington for consultation on the mounting crisis.

Marshals Accused of Brutality

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A Mississippi legislative committee has accused U.S. marshals of brutality in connection with desegregation rioting at the University of Mississippi.

The Justice Department's prompt denial accused the committee of manufacturing and distorting facts.

The Mississippi legislative report, released Wednesday, said the findings were based on the testimony of 90 sworn witnesses. The report charged mistreatment of persons arrested during rioting last fall after a Negro student, person allegedly mistreated were James H. Meredith, arrived on the campus at Oxford.

Neither the witnesses nor the identified.

The Justice Department said in Washington that the report was an untruthful document containing facts "distorted or ignored and incidents manufactured."

In Montgomery, Ala., Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy described the legislative report as "inadequate and incomplete."

The Justice Department said none of the alleged brutalities had been reported by newsmen on the scene. Kennedy said the committee should have questioned the reporters and some of the marshals.

The report, the first of three installments, said 556 marshals, carried out a systematic pattern of brutality toward prisoners, clubbing, manhandling and torturing them.

The committee said between 100 and 150 persons ranging in age from 12 to more than 60 were imprisoned in a garage near the campus.

The report added: "All persons, regardless of age or physical condition, were forced to sit on the concrete slab for periods up to 20 hours, with knees drawn up toward their chests, their hands clasped around their knees, their eyes to the front, without turning their heads or speaking to anyone. This was planned and executed as physical torture."

The report said between 100 and 150 prisoners were kept in a basement room 17 by 40 feet in the university's administration building.

"The marshals wore gas masks but none were given the captives who suffered severely from the presence of tear gas during a large portion of the time they were held in this basement as much as 18 hours," the report said.

In its reply, the Justice Department said of 350 marshals caught in the rioting, 180 were injured, 27 of them by gunfire.

The department added that about 300 persons had been taken into custody from places as far away as Los Angeles and that some were armed with shotguns, rifles, knives, clubs and black-jacks.

The legislative committee did not say when it would release the other two installments of its report.

Monaco Royalty Visiting U.S.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Prince Rainier III of Monaco and princess Grace relax with their children and the princess' family today. It was the first time since their arrival last week that they didn't have a planned function to attend.

There are reports the prince will attend the Kentucky Derby May 4 and that the family will visit the summer home of the princess' mother, Mrs. John B. Kelly Sr., in New Jersey. The princess hasn't said anything about her family's plans.

The princess, former movie actress Grace Kelly, attended the last scheduled reception Wednesday—a combination fashion show and a reunion with teachers and 19 of her classmates at the Stevens School, a girls' finishing school.

History Group to Get Files

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The act which created the Arkansas History Commission anticipated that it would take custody of historical state documents, Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett held today.

The ruling answered a request from Secretary of State Kelly Bryant who wanted to know if he could turn files of correspondence of former governors over to the commission.

Bryant said Dr. John L. Ferguson, director for the History Commission, had asked for the documents and he was willing to grant the request because there is no place to display them in the secretary of state's office.

his mission.

On other major topics, Kennedy said:

Britain and the United States are urging Khrushchev to speed nuclear test ban talks, though "I am not overly sanguine about the prospects." Kennedy suggested that only agreement on a test ban could induce him to participate in an early summit meeting with the Soviet premier.

Since January, 4,000 to 5,000 Soviet troops and technical personnel have left Cuba while the number entering that country has been "300 or 400 at the most."

Critics of the administration's Cuba policies should be more precise in presenting alternatives. And Kennedy believes it would be "imprudent" at this time to recognize a Cuban government in exile which might not adequately represent the home folks.

The President is confident that House members, if given a chance by the Rules Committee to vote on major administration programs, "will make very clear that the American people are still committed" to the economic goals Kennedy has in mind.

In discussing Laos, Kennedy asserted that "I don't want to say anything that will prejudice Secretary Harriman's trip." But he did make these three major points:

1. Laos provides a potentially crucial test of whether it is possible for East and West to reach and maintain agreement on subjects where serious differences are involved.

Harriman to

requested an appointment for him Friday with Foreign Minister Andre A. Gromyko.

An embassy spokesman said no request had been made for a meeting with Khrushchev but indicated this might be arranged when Harriman saw Gromyko.

Kennedy told a news conference in Washington his message to Khrushchev would spell out the reasons for Harriman's mission.

Kennedy also indicated that Harriman will try to assess whether the Soviets can still exercise any effective control on the pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces or whether, as many observers and diplomats suspect, the Laotian Reds listen only to Red China and Communist North Viet Nam.

The Soviet Union and Britain, as cochairmen of the Geneva conference on Laos, have special responsibility for the maintenance of peace there and the preservation of the neutralist coalition government of Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma.

The Pathet Lao, in repeated attacks since April 6, has bottled up Gen. Kong Le's outnumbered neutralist army in the Plaine des Jarres area. If Kong Le's forces are overwhelmed, the coalition government probably would collapse and the civil war between the Pathet Lao and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan's right-wing army probably would resume.

No major fighting has been reported from the Plaine des Jarres since a cease-fire was proclaimed Sunday.

Although the United States apparently has no plans to intervene militarily in Laos, the U.S. Defense Department announced that two battle groups of about 3,000 men and accompanying jet fighters will be sent to Thailand next month in preparation for SEATO maneuvers there in June. Units of the U.S. 7th Fleet have moved into the South China Sea adjacent to the Gulf of Siam.

Mastodon bones now in the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C., were found within the city limits of Helena.

Argument Ends, 11 Arrested

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An argument which started on a picket line in Benton was broken up in Little Rock Wednesday with arrest of 11 men in the parking lot at police headquarters.

Ten men were charged with disturbing the peace and the other, Earl Haas, 37, a supervisor at Wheatley Industries at Benton, was charged with possessing a deadly weapon, a .22 caliber revolver.

Haas said the argument started when J. D. Browning Jr., 19, of Little Rock, crossed a picket line to take a job with Wheatley Industries.

After work, Haas said, he and Browning were followed to Little Rock by nine union members. He said he tried to lose the pursuing car and, when he could not, he drove to the police parking lot.

There the argument started again and police broke it up by arresting everyone.

The United Steelworkers Union struck the Benton plant March 28.

The Negro Community

Thought For The Day
Whoever is in a hurry shows that the thing he is about is too big for him — Haste and hurry are very different things — Chesterfield.

There will be a fish fry at the home of Mrs. Sarah Duffie Saturday, April 27 at 7 p.m. or you may phone your order to be delivered to your home. Call 7-5813. 4-2-1f

The Negro Chamber of Commerce will meet at the Looke Baptist Church tonight (Thursday) at 7 p.m. The public is invited.

The Union Mission met with the Mt. Pleasant Missionary Baptist Church, McCaskill Sunday night. Devotion was conducted by the Devotional Committee, Mrs. Susie Bell, Mrs. Hattie Block and Mrs. Zephariah Merrick. After a short program, the pastor, Rev. Turrentine brought the sermon.

Churches represented were St. Thomas, Shorter Chapel, Antioch Green Hill and Mt. Pleasant. Financial report, $39.12. An offering was taken for the sick in that community.

The next meeting will be held at the Antioch Baptist Church on May 12. Mrs. Minerva Snowden, President; Mrs. Alcola Wade, reporter.

Coming and Going

Plane Reportedly Down, It Was

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Reports of a plane crash on Madison's far East Side resulted in a rash of telephone calls Wednesday at Trux Air Force Base.

One housewife said she could see smoke and was sure a plane had crashed.

A base spokesman said that advance notice will be given the next time the base fire department holds a fire drill and burns a useless plane. The plane used in the drill crashed last October.

Questions, Answers on Viet Nam

EDITOR'S NOTE—Malcolm W. Browne for the last year and a half has been chief Associated Press correspondent in South Viet Nam. He has traveled into many remote areas with troops and reported the action. Now in the United States briefly he has been asked many questions about the Vietnamese war. In this article he answers some of these questions.

Q. How is the war in South Viet Nam going?

A. For a few months the war has been on a kind of plateau. Fighting and casualties go on, but neither side has gained much. The Communists have not achieved what they hoped to do, but they are still fighting as hard as ever.

Q. How long do you think it will take to win?

A. The most discouraging aspect is that the Viet Cong is evidently recruiting fighters just as fast it loses men in battle. In this pattern the war could go on indefinitely. Saigon and Washington hope the Viet Cong will realize it can't win and will give up. The Viet Cong hopes Washington will get and agree to a negotiated truce of the Laotian type. Neither side shows signs of giving in.

Q. How deeply is America involved?

A. As deeply as possible—short of combat divisions. The decision has been made to hold the line against Communist subversion. Americans in Viet Nam feel that the White House would send in combat units if it became obvious there was no other way to win. As it is, GI advisers are shooting and getting shot. Technically, this is not combat, but to call it anything else is quibbling with words.

Q. What would happen if America pulled out?

A. Most Saigon government officials, American diplomats and military officers agree the Communists would take over quickly. Without American support, President Ngo Dinh Diem's government could not stand. The strongest opposition to the government is the Viet Cong.

Q. Should America continue support of the Diem government?

A. It is doubtful that there is much choice. America can influence Vietnamese policies only by persuasion. To use force would bring charges of colonialism that would strengthen the Communist position throughout Southeast Asia. The CIA is kept out of Vietnamese politics and confined to war activity in the countryside, for the most part.

Q. What is life like for the average American soldier?

A. If he's in one of the support units, such as the helicopter crews, he is under fire almost daily. Soldiers usually serve 12-month tours, and most I've known have been anxious to leave.

Q. Vietnamese army units have been charged with lacking aggressiveness and being unwilling to fight. What about that?

A. Most of the Vietnamese soldiers I've known struck me as courageous — but if they are not pushed, they insist on cooking lunch and having a long siesta, even when their units are in hot pursuit of the enemy. The Vietnamese officer corps is organized on the basis of political reliability. Many officers are unwilling to initiate action that could backfire into a reprimand from the palace.

TOTAL NET PAID	3,534

Paragraph 13: Distribution in towns receiving 25 or more copies in detail by counties, as well as the total only for towns receiving less than 25 copies daily.

Evening, December 11, 1962

The listing below gives gross distribution for one day only and is greater or less than the net paid average for the period covered by this report by the following percentages:

City Zone	0.62% greater
Retail Trading Zone	1.68% less
All Other	11.11% greater
GRAND TOTAL	0.17% greater

The "adjusted figures" of county totals appearing below have been arrived at by decreasing (or increasing) the listed county total figures by the appertaining percentages as above set forth. These adjusted county totals will, therefore, approximate the net paid average for the period covered by this report.

"Balance in County" is comprised of the distribution in towns receiving less than 25 copies which is not identified with the towns, townships or minor civil divisions listed.

AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

End of Audit Report.

WHAT IS ABC?

The Audit Bureau of Circulations, Chicago, by its own definition is: "A co-operative association of advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers for the verification of circulation of newspaper and periodical members in the United States and Canada."

It is controlled by those who buy advertising (manufacturing, merchandising and service companies, and their agencies) rather than those who sell advertising (newspapers and magazines).

COST OF ADVERTISING

Pick up an invoice for newspaper advertising and you will find that you are billed for so many column-inches at so much per inch. That's how it is billed — but that isn't how it is sold.

The price of an inch of advertising is meaningless unless you know what the paper's circulation is. When you know that you know the cost.

The cost of advertising is the cost per inch per thousand circulation. That's the great yardstick by which advertising is bought and sold from coast to coast. The national advertisers call it "the milline" — the cost per line (1/14th of an inch) per million circulation.

Now you know why ABC audits are important. They verify circulation — the factor which is combined with the publisher's charge per inch to establish the advertising cost yardstick.

IT'S CHEAP TODAY

Hope Star's local advertising costs about the same today as in 1929. The rate-per-inch is higher, it is true — but circulation also has increased. Here is the comparison:

	1929	1963
Local "open" rate per inch per thousand	20c	28.3c

And that's a performance we feel deserves a page advertisement all its own.

Politically, Cuban Exiles Are Chaos

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — From a political standpoint the Cuban exiles in this country are organized chaos. From a military standpoint any invasion of Cuba by them alone looks futile.

If there ever is another invasion of Fidel Castro's island it almost certainly will have to be led by American armed forces. And nothing like that is in sight.

The exiles' hit-and-run raids on Cuba are pinpricks against Castro and the Russian troops there. They're simply a gesture of protest and nothing more.

They might keep alive in the anti-Castro Cubans still on the island a hope that some day Castro might be toppled. But the raids wouldn't do the toppling. And President Kennedy said no such raids are to originate from U.S. shores.

There are about 135,000 to 150,000 Cuban exiles in Florida, mostly in and around Miami. About 65,000 of them are getting relief from the American government.

They represent Cuba's poor, middle class and rich. Most of them are from the Cuban middle class. They are united on one thing: their opposition to Castro and their desire to get rid of him.

But they are split into a bewildering mob of views and organizations. Their organizations in Florida are estimated to number from 30 to 400. These range from left to far right.

Before dictator Fulgencio Batista was thrown out by Castro in 1959, reforms were badly needed. Castro promised them. This country never quarreled with his revolutionary aims—that is, the promised reforms.

But the American government takes the position now that Castro betrayed his promises after he seized power, just as he lied about himself, first denying he was a Communist and then announcing he'd be one till he died.

Yet when the exiles in the spring of 1961 made their disastrous invasion of Cuba, backed by the American government, they had no agreed-on program to offer the Cuban people in place of Castro's excesses if they had destroyed him.

If they were able to return to Cuba this week they still have no agreed-on government program. For instance: would they or wouldn't they keep the land reforms of Castro and the nationalizing of industry?

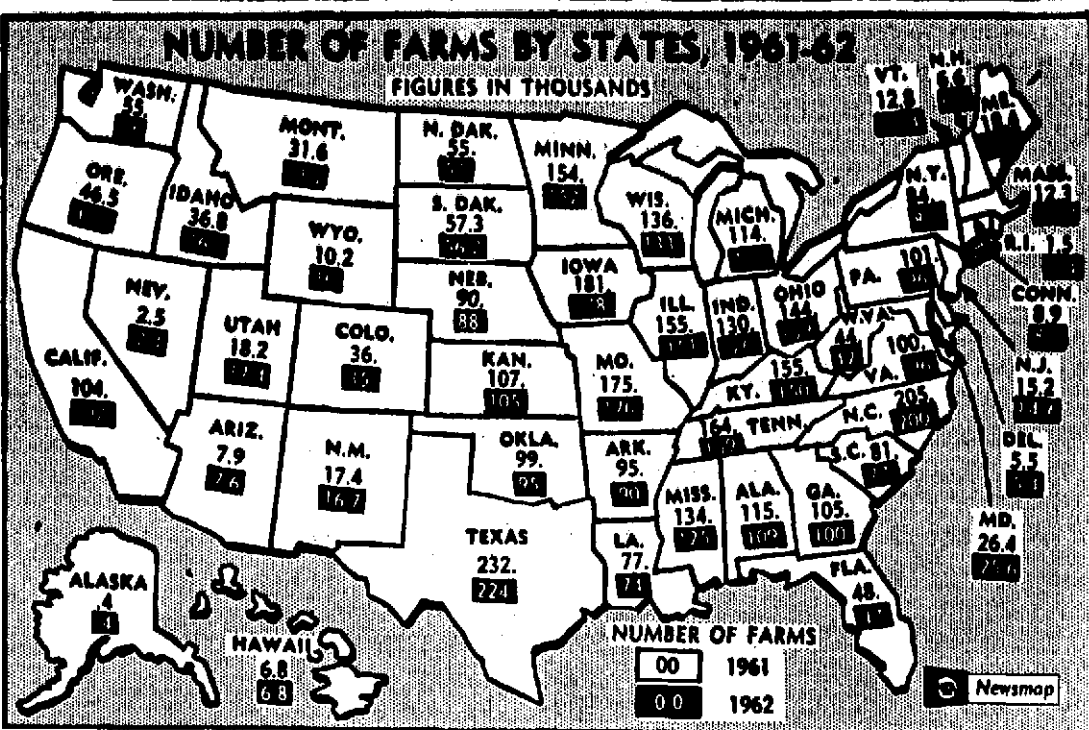

If they got back tomorrow, the logical moves—if they acted logically—would be to create a provisional government to keep order and arrange for a constitution, political parties and candidates, programs, and elections.

That would be the ideal arrangement—if it worked. If it didn't, Cuba might break down into anarchy or a new dictatorship of one kind or another.

It would seem the exiles' best hope of rallying support among the anti-Castroites still in Cuba—if an invasion were made—would be to agree on a program to replace Castro's, keeping what's good, getting rid of the bad, and continually broadcasting it to the people in Cuba.

But hope of such agreement among the exile factions seems out of the question.

Integration Leader Shot in Alabama

ATTALLA, Ala. (AP)—A white integrationist from Maryland was shot to death beside a highway near this northeast Alabama town Tuesday night. A full-scale search for the killer is under way.

Gov. George Wallace, a staunch segregationist, called the slaying of William L. Moore, 35, of Baltimore, a dastardly act and offered a $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the killer.

Moore, hiking across Alabama and bound for Mississippi on a personal antisegregation mission, was carrying pro-integration signs.

Coroner Noble Yocum said Moore apparently was shot at close range with a small caliber weapon. One bullet went through Moore's head and another apparently lodged in the head, Yocum said.

Moore reportedly was walking from Chattanooga, Tenn., to Jackson, Miss., to tell Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett of his racial views.

Moore had told a newsman a little earlier Tuesday night that he had left a letter for President Kennedy at the White House, taken a bus from Baltimore to Chattanooga and begun his trek.

Moore's letter to the President outlined plans for the walk and said in part:

"I will be engaged in interstate travel and theoretically under the protection of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution guaranteeing equal rights and privileges to all citizens.

"I am not making this walk to demonstrate either federal rights or states rights, but individual rights. I am doing it—for the South and hopefully to illustrate that peaceful protest is not altogether extinguished down there.

"I hope that I will not have to eat these words."

Alabama's public safety director Al Lingo, urged the cooperation of all law enforcement agencies to find the killer or killers.

A passing motorist found the body, which was still wearing signs reading "Eat at Joe's—both black and white" and "Equal rights for all. Mississippi or bust."

State investigator Ray McDowell said he had talked with Moore earlier and said Moore told him he was a mail carrier in Baltimore and had been a postal worker in Binghamton, N.Y.

McDowell said part of the sign saying "black" had been torn off. He said Moore told him a Negro in Chattanooga had torn the sign, saying that the word "colored" should have been used.

Yocum said he had talked with Moore's wife, Mary, in Binghamton. He said she told him Moore was on a two-week vacation and that his route would take him from Chattanooga to Birmingham, and then to Jackson via Meridian, Miss.

Attalla is just outside Gadsden, about 60 miles northeast of Birmingham.

Mrs. Moore told Yocum that relatives in both Birmingham and Meridian had advised against Moore's coming to either area.

She was quoted as saying that Moore was a member of the American Civil Liberties Union and pacifist groups.

Women Picket White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of 45 women opposing President Kennedy's transportation bill picketed the White House Tuesday.

Mrs. Judy Smith of Little Rock, wife of Odell Smith, president of Teamster Local 878, said the women were all members of DRIVE, the political action arm of the union. DRIVE is taken from the name Democrats, Republicans and Independent Voter Education.

Mrs. Smith said the group met with members of the Arkansas Congressional delegation. The women were scheduled to return to Arkansas today.

Of the 45, 37 were from Little Rock, five from Fort Smith and three from Pine Bluff.

Mitchell Is Acquitted of Charge

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph Mitchell, the Newburgh, N.Y., city manager whose welfare code crackdown two years ago cast him into national prominence, has been acquitted in an alleged shakedown of two housing developers of $20,000.

A codefendant, Lawrence DeMasi Jr., 42, a Hillsdale, N.J., real estate broker, also was acquitted but was re-arrested on a grand larceny charge immediately after the State Supreme Court jury returned its verdict Tuesday.

The new charge stems from the state's claims that DeMasi accepted the alleged $20,000 payoff as a middleman for Mitchell.

DeMasi was released later in $5,000 bail.

Mitchell, 41, had been accused of demanding $20,000 from twin brothers Stephen and Joseph Wahrhaftig of Monticello, N.Y., in order to get the Newburgh City Council to rezone 11½ acres of property on which the brothers wanted to build a housing project.

If they had been convicted on the bribery and conspiracy charges, Mitchell and DeMasi would have faced a maximum of 20 years in prison.

Mitchell announced after the verdict that he will reinstate himself as Newburgh city manager. He had suspended himself from the post pending outcome of the trial.

But in Newburgh, where the all-Republican council refused Monday night to back Democratic Mayor William D. Ryan's attempt to fire Mitchell "regardless of the outcome of the trial," the mayor commented:

"I don't believe the city manager can just walk into City Hall and reinstate himself. I believe it's a question for the corporation council."

Ryan bitterly fought the welfare proposals advanced by Mitchell.

Mitchell had received the backing of the Newburgh Council in his program to remove from the city's relief rolls able-bodied men who refused to work for the city and mothers of illegitimate children who continued to give birth out of wedlock. The courts later tossed out most of his program, which included other crackdowns.

Secrecy in Government Is Scored

NEW YORK (AP)—Irwin Maier, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, hit today at what he called secrecy and constraint in government.

Maier said publishers "are concerned when an administration official speaks of using news as a weapon in the cold war, of controlling and managing the flow of news, and even of the government's 'right to lie'."

Maier's comment obviously was directed at remarks last year by Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs.

"Equally disturbing is the question whether this public official reflects administration policy," said Maier, publisher and president of the Milwaukee Journal.

Maier said in a speech prepared for the annual ANPA convention: "This is not a question of whether the government has the right to time its announcements and news releases to achieve maximum effectiveness for its program."

"Neither is it a question of the government's right to withhold certain items of information, disclosure of which would clearly jeopardize national security. Governments have been doing this for a long time and there need be no deception involved."

Maier said the point was that there was a moral difference between withholding information and spreading misinformation. He said that "if a government, for whatever motives, begins to deceive its citizens, it has begun to corrode their trust."

Referring to newspaper strikes in New York, Cleveland, Minneapolis and elsewhere in the last year, Maier said:

"One of the alternatives that is being discussed among some publishers is a no-strike, no-lockout agreement among publishers and union leaders, combined with the establishment of a 'labor court' consisting of management, labor and a 'third force' representing the public."

"Such a court would have the power to resolve all disputes that could not be settled by the parties immediately involved."

Maier told the convention, "I would guess that few, if any, publishers would countenance the wholesale and abrupt dismissal of long service employees because of the introduction of improved mechanical processes."

"But when such employees die, resign or retire, no logical defense can be made for the hiring of unnecessary replacements. In the long run, not only the public but the unions themselves will suffer if they insist on a newspaper hiring new people for unnecessary or nonexistent jobs."

Pollution Care Could Help Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials of the Public Health Service say proper steps to halt stream pollution could mean a vast amount of additional water for municipal and industrial use in the Arkansas and Red River valleys.

The agency is now completing a survey of pollution in the two rivers and expects to submit a report and recommendations to Congress this year.

Gordon E. McCallum, chief of the agency's Water Supply and Water Pollution Control Section, discussed the matter in testimony before a House Appropriations Subcommittee. A transcript of the closed-door hearing was made public today.

The agency is asking $115,000 for the study, which has been in progress for several years. The money would be for use in the year beginning July 1.

Asked what specific benefits are expected from the study, McCallum said the recommendations to be made in the report call for the Army Engineers and others to take steps to control natural brine solutions which find their way into the rivers.

"If the states are able, and I am sure they will be, through regulatory action, if necessary, to take care of man-made pollution, it is conceivable to restore 30 million acre-feet of water a year so that it could be used for municipal, industrial or recreational purposes," McCallum said.

He estimated these improvements would have a value of $5

Patten Troubled by Lawyers

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—When Billy Joe Patton won the first of his two North and South Amateur classes each Tuesday and Thursday nights to serve coffee and sweets.

"They brag on me so much," she says, "I just have to serve the guys and get up early to bake."

Golf Championships back in 1958 his final opponent was Alex Welsh, Rockford, Ill., attorney.

Welsh carried Patton to the 37th hole before losing. Today he feels another shot at the Morganton, N.C., lumberman, in the morning third round of a two-round day that will leave only eight men unbeaten by late afternoon.

Patton had trouble with another lawyer Tuesday, wiggling by 40-year-old John Ward of Fayetteville, N.Y., in a 19-hole squeaker in the second round.

New and Easy Money-Saving Main Dish

Hearty chowders, laden with good eatables, are easy and satisfying main dishes for lunch or supper meals. Such a chowder is this which includes meaty lima beans, corn and frankfurters in its make up.

The vegetable combination of lima beans and corn is termed succotash—and has long been an eating favorite. Large dry limas, cooked to tender plumpness, and canned cream-style corn are the thrifty succotash team here. For taste-pleasing richness and smoothness, the chowder base is evaporated milk. This concentrated whole milk boosts the food value, too. Evaporated milk is so convenient and economical to use for all cream soups and milk chowders.

SUCCOTASH CHOWDER

3 cups large dry lima beans (Duster beans)	1 tall can evaporated milk (1 1/2 cups)
8 cups water	1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon salt	Dash of pepper
1 medium onion, sliced	4 frankfurters, sliced thin
1 can cream-style corn (1 lb.)

Wash lima beans. Place in large kettle with water and the 1 teaspoon salt. Bring to a boil and boil for 2 minutes. Remove from heat, cover and let beans soak 1 hour. After beans have soaked, do not change water. Add onion and bring to a boil. Turn down heat, cover kettle and cook slowly until beans are tender, about 1 hour. Add corn, evaporated milk, the 1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper and frankfurter slices. Heat until hot, but do not boil. Reheat 4 to 6 servings.

Chapter XXII

I must have jolted her good on the telephone. She was ready to face it — cool, in complete control. I didn't want to go into it until the waiter had brought our drinks, and gone away for good. "Matt is fine, if completely out of his mind," I said. "He let himself into my apartment by way of the fire escape. He was waiting there for me when I got home." "Fire escape?"

"He's hiding out. He won't tell me where. But he told me why, Frances."

"Why?"

"He followed you to Eighty-ninth Street last night. He thinks you killed Dennis Hooper. He's deliberately trying to get the police to pin it on him — to take the heat off you."

She didn't move or blink. She just stared at me. I could almost feel her resisting the shock of what I'd told her.

Henri brought the drinks and went away.

"You said on the phone you knew something else," she said. "That was a real smooth act you and the General put on for me this afternoon," I said.

She leaned her head against the back of the booth seat, and for a moment her eyes were closed. "How did you find out?" she asked finally.

"Does that matter?"

"No, Frankly I was afraid to tell him. He might really decide to kill someone."

"Thanks for that anyway, Cora."

"Did you kill Dennis Hooper?"

She didn't answer at once. She sat there, staring at me as if she was trying to judge how she should play it.

"Don't be smart with me, Frances," I said. "I told Matt I'd represent you. You can tell the truth and it'll be in confidence. But I have to know the truth."

She closed her eyes again. "I killed him," she said, in a whisper. "He took something that belonged to me. I wanted it back."

"Dennis refused to give it to you?"

"So you picked up the candlestick and brained him with it?"

"Yes."

"What did you do with the candlestick?"

"I — I threw it away."

"Where?"

There was panic in her eyes. "Where? In — in a trash basket on the street."

"You wipe your fingerprints off it?"

"Of course I did. I — of course I did."

I felt myself relaxing. "I want to tell you something," I said. "There's one thing about Matt. He isn't tricky like you. He didn't kill Dennis Hooper. When he got there, after you'd left, he found him dead. He tells me that and I believe him. Let's not have the two of you playing games to mislead the police. Almost any good lawyer can tell when a witness is lying. You're lying in your teeth. You don't have to be a heroine to help Matt. Just tell the truth. Hooper was dead when you got there, wasn't he?"

She didn't answer.

"Did you find what you were looking for — the thing Dennis and his pal took from your apartment?"

Still no answer.

"Neither did the General," I said, "which explains his abortive visit to your apartment this afternoon. He wanted to bargain for it, didn't he? I assume he's been in touch with you since then."

I made a wild guess. "What was it, letters?"

The quick way she looked up was all the answer I needed. It was letters — letters the General was afraid she might use against him if he found Higby's projected slander suit.

"So the General sent his nephew to get the letters and Dennis succeeded. He called the General. The General hurried over to get them and found his nephew dead. So whoever killed Dennis took the letters."

Very slowly she shook her head. I'd broken through her stubborn defense at last. "Your life and Matt's, your future and Matt's are on the line. I'm not the prosecutor, I'm the defense attorney. My only job is to protect you. Make it a little easier for me."

"No human being is all black or all white," she said. "Mostly what we see on the surface is the gray color that's the combination of both. Lee Hooper is different from anyone else I've ever known."

It was odd to hear the General referred to by his first name. "Lee Hooper is a lot of different things to a lot of different people, too. To his wife, his business associates, his old army friends, he is a tough, rigidly moral, highly successful, totally humorless man. A deadly enemy, a cold unbending friend. Bids Total $3.6 Million for Highways

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Highway Commission opened bids totaling $3,635,987 today on seven road and bridge construction projects in eight counties.

Jeffrey Contractors, Inc., of Fort Smith was apparent low bidder at $1,295,668 on the largest project in the letting, construction of frontage roads and roadway preparation on 1.5 miles in Interstate Route 40 near Forrest city.

Jobs, by counties, with apparent low bidders and the bid price:

Drew and Desha: Surfacing 6.58 miles of Highway 138 from its junction with Highway 4 to Tillar, S. M. Dixon Construction Co., $394,015.

Lafayette: Reconstruction of the Bodcaw Creek bridge and approaches on Highway 160, R. H.

Reds Down Whites in Scrimmage

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Red team connected for two touchdowns to pep up a scrimmage session Tuesday and coach Frank Broyles used the occasion for personal pats-on-the-back for University of Arkansas football players.

Fred Marshall hit Jerry Lamb for the two scores as the Red team downed the Whites 14-0 in a filmed game-type scrimmage. Broyles said "Marshall had a real good day" and termed Lamb's catches "miraculous."

Marshall's touchdowns were almost duplicates. One was set up with a 17 yard run, the other with a 20-yard sprint. The throw to Lamb was for 20 yards each time.

Broyles termed the workout impressive and said the team as a whole "did a little better."

GP Offers to Buy Lumber Firm

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP) — The Georgia-Pacific Corp., announced today that it had offered to buy, remaining shares in the Fordyce Lumber Co., at Fordyce for 400 a share.

Georgia-Pacific obtained 49 per cent of the 52,218 shares of Fordyce stock in a recent purchase.

The Fordyce firm operates a southern pine and hardwood flooring mill and owns over 160,000 acres of timberland, much of it near Georgia-Pacific multiple lumber-paper operations in Crossett.

rushing ability of the squad, however, and promised more work on that phase of training.

The Forkers are in for a similar workout today. Thursday plans weren't revealed. The team takes off Friday because of a coaching clinic on campus. They go through a full scrimmage Saturday for benefit of visiting coaches.

Arkansas Golfers Down Baylor

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Arkansas dropped the Baylor Bears from the lead in Southwest Conference golf Tuesday, handing them a 3½-2½ defeat.

Baylor's loss left Texas A&M and Texas Christian tied for the top spot, each with 16-8 records. Baylor, 19-11, was relegated to third.

R. H. Sikes of Arkansas and Joe Pat Rickett of Baylor tied for medalist honors and had their match. Each shot a 3-under par 65.

In the No. 2 singles match Richard McCully of Arkansas tied Jim Grant of Baylor, each shooting 70. Sikes and McCully won the team point.

Kenny Oliver of Arkansas downed Tom Langston of Baylor 2 and 1 and Randall Meeks of Baylor defeated Nolan Rushing of Arkansas 2-up. The two pairs tied for the team point.

Quick Treat Canned Corned Beef Hawaiian

Somehow meals keyed to a Hawaiian theme always seem to have a special brightness and flavor. While many of our 50th State's excellent dishes require considerable art to prepare, here is one that is about as easy an entrée as you could find.

You can assemble our "Corned Beef with Pineapple" in less than five minutes, and it takes only 15 to 20 minutes to bake. That's because the meat used is canned corned beef, which needs only to be heated through. Be sure, however, to put the number of cans you'll need in the refrigerator in advance, so that the meat will be chilled for easy slicing.

Canned corned beef and pineapple are topped with ingredients that bake into a luscious sauce. The intrigue of the sauce together with the hearty flavor and satisfying protein of the canned corned beef will give this baked dish a place among the family's favorites.

The recipe can easily be increased for additional servings. Good accompaniments include peas and miniature carrots, brown bread, and iced tea or coffee.

CORNERED BEEF WITH PINEAPPLE

1 can (12 ounces) corned beef, chilled
8 canned pineapple slices
¾ cup chili sauce

2 lemons vinegar
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
3 tablespoons brown sugar

Cut corned beef into 8 equal slices. Place four slices of pineapple in a greased baking dish. Top each pineapple slice with two slices of corned beef and cover with another ring of pineapple. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over all. Bake at 350-degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Proclamation

The present state of world affairs makes it especially fitting that each of us, as citizens of this great nation, should reaffirm our faith in the rule of law and in the supremacy of government by laws rather than men.

The Congress of the United States, and the President of official proclamation, have designated May 1 as Law Day USA. The basic aims of Law Day are to foster increased respect for law, for independent courts which uphold the law, and for a deeper awareness of the benefits and responsibilities of citizenship.

Liberty and equality for the individual are what distinguish our system of government from communism, under which millions of people today live in fear and tyranny. No better time could be chosen to call public attention to our great heritage of individual liberty under law.

NOW THEREFORE, I, Frank Douglas, Mayor of Hope, Ark., do hereby proclaim Wednesday, May 1, 1963, as Law Day USA in the City of Hope and call upon all citizens, organizations, and schools to recognize this special day with suitable programs, ceremonies and educational activities.

Dated at the City of Hope, this 20th day of March, 1963.

Teachers Attend a Workshop

Hempstead County Classroom Teachers Association climaxed the year's activities with the presentation of a Modern Math Workshop. The meeting was held in Hope High School Library, Tuesday, April 16. Mrs. Betty Jane Foster, President, and Mrs. James McLarty, program chairman arranged for the program.

Mrs. Lorane Mitchell, consultant for Ginn and Company, from Ada, Oklahoma, challenged the group by illustrating numerous enrichment activities which may be used in the existing program of mathematics in the classrooms.

Mrs. Mitchell prefaced her remarks by explaining that the "new trend" of teaching mathematics was placing more emphasis on presentation of materials as well as the terminology used, rather than replacing any methods already in use.

About 55 teachers and administrators from Hope and Hempstead County, representing all the teaching levels of grades one through twelve, attend the meeting.

Commission Erred

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Chancellor Thomas F. Butt ruled Tuesday that the Eureka Springs city commission erred in not giving petitioners for a referendum 10 days in which to correct an insufficiency and ordered a special election on a proposed $85,000 revenue water bond issue. The commission refused last month to honor the petition, saying it was invalid because it did not have a copy of the commission's resolution calling for the bond issue attached to it while it was being circulated.

Gay Chocolate Butter Cookies For A Spring Kaffeeklatsch

Just because it's spring, and because we happen to love home-made sweets, we decided to bake a batch of butter cookies. No sooner were they out of the oven and properly decorated than we called in a few neighbors, fixed a large pot of coffee and had ourselves a kaffeeklatsch.

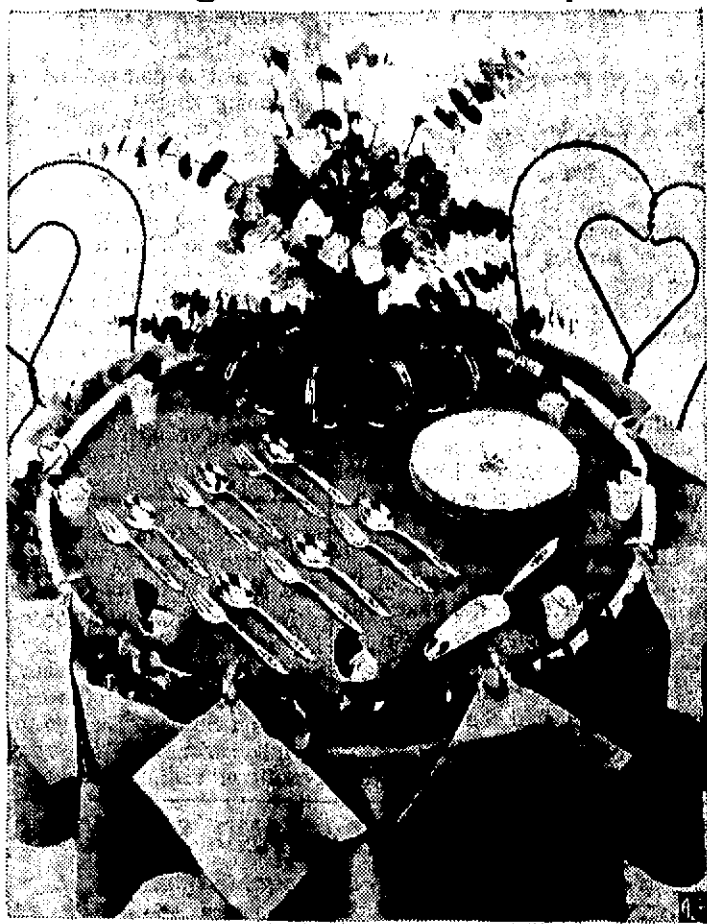

That informal, spur-of-the-moment-visiting time of year is with us again. Since these Chocolate Butter Cookies are the company kind, they're likely candidates to keep on hand to serve with coffee. The designs on top, swirled on with pink and white frosting, look as pretty as a spring rose against the dark cookies.

As for the coffee, it's naturally fresh and fragrant to match the season. And let there be plenty of it—enough for hours of relaxing coffee talk.

Chocolate Butter Cookies:
 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
 1/2 cup breakfast cocoa (not Dutch)
 1/2 cup cornstarch
 1/2 cup confectioners sugar
 1 cup butter or margarine

Mix and sift flour, cocoa, cornstarch and sugar. Cream butter to consistency of mayonnaise. Add flour mixture a little at a time, blending well after each addition. Divide into 4 portions. Wrap each in foil, chill thoroughly. Work with one portion at a time, keeping others in refrigerator. Shape quickly into 1-inch balls or force through pastry tube in desired shape. Flatten balls by pressing with soiled times of fork in both directions. Bake at 350° for about 20 minutes, or until done. Cool on racks. Decorate with tinted frosting. Make about 2 dozen small cookies.

Novel Shower Buffet Plays Ring-Around-The-Rosy

The rose and the ring are age-old symbols of a bridal season. And this is the theme picked by Marian Marsh of Onida Table Planning Service to give a shower party setting a delightful touch of traditional romance. The rose is represented by rose-patterned silver and china and by the buffet decoration of abundant roses in a tall crystal vase—a lovely formal bouquet accented with soft green sprays. The ring is charmingly expressed by the round table's "hoop" border, transformed into a wreath via stapled-on greenery. In addition, there's a happy ring-around-the-rosy of napkins clipped to the hoop with big golden curtain rings! . . . Luscious rose-pink is the dramatic hue of both Belgian linen napkins and the circular tablecloth of this buffet-in-the-round. The gleaming solid silver dessert forks and spoons and server for party cake are new "Belle Rose" in Heirloom Sterling, featuring one perfect sculptured rose, deeply-carved and raised on smooth modern handles. The dessert plates repeat this full-blown rose motif. (They're "Huntington Rose" in Franciscan Masterpiece china.) Tall glasses of iced punch with ring-like handles encircle the centerpiece. Final flip: A rose-posy favor for each guest set roundabout the table!

FORMULA WORKS TOO WELL
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Until I took your advice about looking one's best, I was utterly devoid of confidence, unprepossessing in appearance and very shy. After reading what you told other girls, I began making changes; had my teeth straightened, altered my hair style and deliberately chose up-to-date, stylish clothes.

People began to take notice, especially the boys. This gave me self-confidence and developed my personality. Now, believe it or not, though all of 23, I'm just starting to date.

And suddenly life has become very complicated. Your formula is working too well! I go out regularly with a nice fellow five years older than I. I would like to date other men but if I tell him so, my inexperience will be painfully evident.

Truth to tell, I'm being rushed by a married man. He has always been pleasant but today was a regular cave man. We work in the same office. I tried to make light of his passes and laughingly accused him of being a wolf; he calmed down a little but got me to say yes to a golfing date. Now, of course, I regret my folly for he's much too fast and virile for me.

I wouldn't know how to cope with his advances. I find it funny myself and blame the fact that I put heart and soul into anything I start and probably did too good a job on my appearance. But love isn't the only complication in my life. My father drinks and is often nasty and difficult to handle. My steady date doesn't know but that is the reason I never invite friends to our home. Should I tell him? —Bewitched and bewildered

Dear Bewitched: If you're a smart girl you'll break that date with the married wolf. To walk into such a trap with your eyes open is going Little Red Riding Hood one better.

Keep up the good work on your appearance and don't concentrate on a boy until you've made up your mind that he's the one and only. I doubt this steady you speak of is, else you wouldn't raise the question. Your father is a separate problem. Sooner or later your dates are bound to learn the truth. A friend of mine had a similar problem with her brother. She told her dates what to expect when they came to call. Being good sports, they all turned in and helped. Your best bet is to take the same line. They'll like you all the better for asking their co-operation. They may even pull him back. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet on Alcoholism.

Dear Helen: My husband is an aviator. After a rough flight he comes home and beats me up. We have five children, the eldest is 5 years, the youngest 18 months. If it weren't for them, I'd walk out.

He says I cannot leave; that he's better than I and I wouldn't have the sense to manage without him. Every time I read of a storm in his flying area I shudder for I know it means another beating. What can I do? —Need Help

On the heels of this letter came another from the same woman. Dear Helen: I am the wife who got beat up every time my husband a commercial air pilot, had a rough flight. Since writing my first letter to you I've found a man who thinks a great deal of me and I do of him. We're both 27. My husband is 45. He doesn't know about this other man. My life at home is so miserable I am afraid I'll fall in love with this nice guy—so good to me and the children. What shall I do?

Dear Need: You didn't tell me the truth in the first letter but you did in the second. Chuck that other man unless you want a divorce. Your husband evidently suspects something is wrong. Being inarticulate, he uses brute force instead of reason.

This is a serious situation for it involves not only you and the children but the lives of others. By upsetting your husband you might cause the death of a lot of people. Better ask the company doctor to check your husband's nerves.

Dear Helen: Do you think it all right for 13-year-old girls to give and go to boy and girl parties?

Steel Profits Are Changing for Better

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Steel profits are changing rapidly for the better. The era of dividend cutting appears over. And this would be so even without the recent price increases on some products.

Returns on the first three months of 1963 are now coming in and most show marked improvement over the final months of last year when many steel companies failed to make enough to cover the old dividend rates.

Profits still lag behind the first quarter of 1962, but this should change in the current quarter.

The reasons for the bad comparison with last year are many and special. One is a different mode of taking depreciation allowances which makes reported net profits smaller even when gross earnings rise. Another is the much later timetable this year for labor negotiations and their effect on customer planning.

Twelve companies have reported on net earnings so far and of these eight lag behind a year ago. The other four were small firms with specialized products in heavy demand or with other individual advantages.

Armco, Jones & Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet & Tube report doing better now than in the dismal final half of 1962. But their first quarter returns haven't caught up with booming early 1962. Industry observers look for similar reports in coming days from U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic.

The labor situation is credited by most steelmen with making the difference in the two years. In 1962 customers started stockpiling early, building up inventories at a rate of two million tons a month for a time. A new labor contract was signed early in April and customers started living off their stocks. But during the booming first three months steel mills operated near capacity and profits soared.

This year labor negotiations couldn't start before May nor a strike occur before August. Customers have only lately begun stockpiling in earnest. Steel production is climbing now—and so should earnings.

But during the first three months of 1963 stockpiling wasn't much in evidence. Gains in profits from the dreary final months of 1962 came mainly from increased business activity in general which started steel output up.

Youngstown Sheet says the later timetable for customer stockpiling is the principal reason first quarter volume trailed the year ago level. But it also notes that a change in U.S. Treasury rules on depreciation allowances has increased such charges by $1.4 million. That boosts funds available for corporate activity, but depresses net profits.

Youngstown Sheet's net income of $7,175,469 so far this year compares with $9,399,894 a year ago. Jones & Laughlin's profits dropped to $7,979,000 from $11,819,000, and Armco's to $11,015,000 from $14,143,522.

But in all cases the indications were clear that profits are rising now along with production. The current quarter results should pull well ahead of year-ago figures. If there isn't too big a letdown after strike hedge ordering stops the results for the year as a whole should top 1962.

In that rollercoaster year net income for the industry fell 18 per cent behind 1961—a major reason steel companies say the recent price increases were justified.

Deane to Speak at Press Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ernie Deane, columnist for the Arkansas Gazette, will be the banquet speaker at the annual convention of the Arkansas High School Press Association at Little Rock Central High Friday and Saturday.

About 500 student journalists from 44 schools are expected to attend.

Other speakers will include: Jerry McConnell, sports writer for the

We have discussed this in school and not come to a final decision. These parties are well-supervised by our parents or older brothers and sisters (about 18 or 19 years old). My parents hesitate to send me to these parties. I've been invited to such a party two weeks from now so please hurry your answer. —N.E.S.

Dear N.: It depends upon the kind of party. If a taffy-pull, a picnic or a tennis or croquet match, okay. But if it's an evening party with record playing and dancing, no. In the latter event, your parents are right. A 13-year-old is too young for this type of boy and girl parties.

A-State Downs Mississippi S.

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State downed Mississippi State 3-1 in baseball Tuesday, splitting a two-game series with the visitors.

Gazette: Marcus George, city editor of the Arkansas Democrat; Larry Ohltnik, chief photographer for the Gazette, and Oscar Alagood, general manager of radio station KMMK-FM.

Four outstanding student editors will receive awards at the banquet Friday night.

Mississippi took the first game 6-0 Monday.

The Arkansans took advantage of two sacrifice plays to gain their victory. Marvin Kennedy made first base on a single, then Jim Keller sacrificed and landed safe on a fielder's choice. Larry Poole made first, via the same route, advancing Kennedy to third. A double by George Glenn and a single by Robbie Finch brought the scores in.

Willisville Host to Homemakers

The Sub-Federation meeting of the Future Homemakers of America was held at Willisville this week.

Following a social hour Sept. D. B. Medder 'welcomed' the group. Barge Bonds of Bodecaw, Sub-Federation president presided and the minutes of the last meeting were read by Ann Murray of Willisville. Anita Mardar of Willisville was elected to serve as Federation secretary. New Sub-Federation officers elected were President from the Hope chapter, Vive-president, Joyce Carlton of Laneburg, Secretary, Jennie Lou Quillin of Spring Hill, Reporter, Mary Hooper of Bodecaw and Parliamentarian, Janice Wicker of Cale.

Following a 'relaxer' song, Jennifer Cox of Hope gave the devotional, and the Hope chapter gave a very interesting program on 'Careers in Home Economics'.

There were approximately 63 delegates, sponsors, and FHA mothers attending the meeting from Laneburg, Willisville, Spring Hill, Hope, Bodecaw and Cale. Chapter sponsors of the Sub-Federation are Mrs. Lloyd Smittle, Mrs. H. L. Hannegan, Mrs. Eston Turner, and Mrs. Talbot Feldt, Jr.

Soil Moisture Short in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Soil moisture continues short in Arkansas but farmers made considerable progress in planting last week, the weekly weather and crop bulletin showed today.

The bulletin is compiled by the Agriculture Department, Weather Bureau, Agricultural Extension Service and the University of Arkansas.

Showers Friday and Saturday were helpful in many areas but more rain is needed, particularly in the northwest and west central areas.

Sizable acreages of cotton, rice and corn and some soybeans were planted last week. Some early cotton and considerable corn are up to a stand. Small grains are doing well where moisture is not too short. Growth of hay crops and pastures has been slowed.

Fruit crops are promising and strawberries set a good crop of fruit but need rain.

Seen in far wider variety this spring than ever before, are the co-ordinated units of sport jackets and slacks (some include vests). Most popular are those which have solid-color slacks in the predominant tone of the patterned sport jacket. This co-ordination is a fine service to those who want the job of assembling sports ensembles made easy, notes the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

Police Slayer Taken to State Prison

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—What began as a shooting in a Little Rock private club and ended in the death of a North Little Rock policeman has blossomed into a case now involving kidnap, a beating and theft of all coins.

The case took on new aspects Monday night when William Bonds, 56, an employee at the Arkansas Baptist Hospital where James Dean Walker, charged with first degree murder in the death of Patrolman Jervell Vaughan, was held, was kidnapped, beaten and left bleeding in his car on a lonely road.

Walker was taken secretly Tuesday to the State Prison Farm at Cummins and put under heavy guard.

Bonds was under police guard at his room in a Little Rock hospital. The beating he received Monday was the third he has undergone since he has been employed at the hospital.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation opened another phase of the case Tuesday, announcing that Walker and a companion who was with him at the time Vaughan was shot to death, Russell Freeman Kumpke, had shipped a footlocker containing over 200 pounds of valuable coins from St. Louis, to Reno, Nev. April 13. Kumpke, wounded in the arm during the shootings in which Vaughan died, was kept at the Pulaski County jail. He is charged with assault with intent to kill.

Bonds, an employee since January, 1960, at the hospital from which he was taken Monday night, was kidnapped after he left work. Police said three men and a woman attacked Bonds, but it was not known whether they were attempting to get to Walker to harm him or aid him.

Disclosure of the shipment of coins by Walker and Kumpke led Roy K. Moore, special agent in charge of the Little Rock FBI office, to remark, "We're trying to pin these guys down as to their movements, associations and what they might have been involved in."

There have been several reported thefts of coin collections recently, at St. Louis and Mattoon, Ill. A collection of coins valued at $50,000 was taken from the Truman Library at Independence, Mo. last fall, but Moore said they haven't been connected with the footlocker shipment.

A dozen folders of old coins, valued at up to $350 each, were taken last week from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Taylor in Morrilton.

'Fair Trade' Act Gets a Going Over

WASHINGTON (AP)—The "Quality Stabilization Act," considered, but not acted upon in three sessions of Congress, got another going over Tuesday before a House Commerce subcommittee headed by Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark.

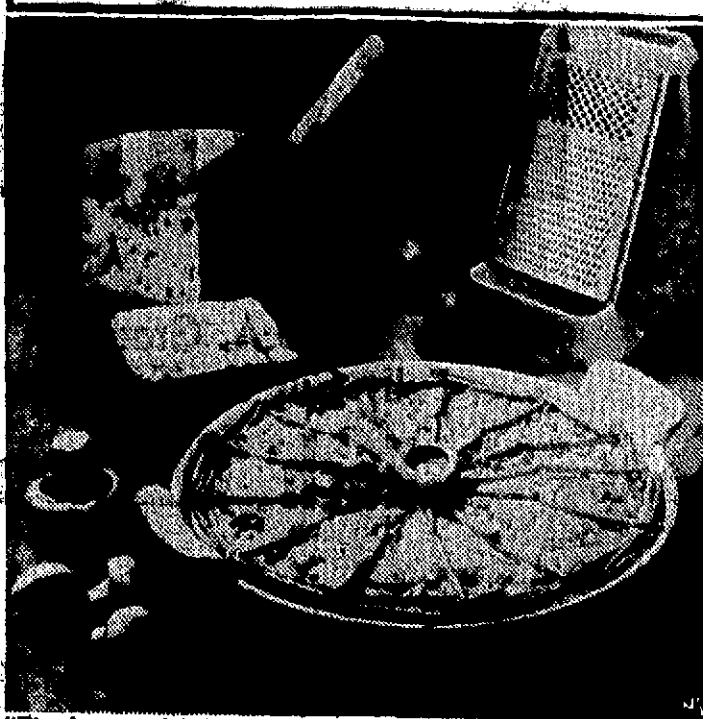

The act would permit a manufacturer who owns a brand name or trademark to revoke the right of a retailer to sell his goods if the retailer:

1. Uses them for "bait merchandising."
2. Publishes "misrepresentations" to deceive purchasers.
3. Knowingly sells them at a price lower than the manufacturer's "currently established resale price or price range."

It brings up the question, is "quality stabilization" the same thing as "fair trade" or "price salary for a secretary for the state Educational Television commission for the remainder of the current fiscal year. The commission was unable to pay the salary because the House failed to act on an emergency clause attached to Act 338 of 1963, Faubus said. The Commission will have funds, authorized for the 1963-65 biennium, available July 1.

WAGON WHEEL CASSEROLE FOR MEATLESS MEAL

"The lone prairie" never saw a wagon wheel as appetizing as this one! But the cook won't hear "a discouraging word" when she serves it, either! Her chuck wagon equipment certainly should include this delightful new set of graters.

It took little Denmark to send this new kitchen aid to us, along with the cream-smooth, butter-rich, tangy Danish Blue Cheese, known in Denmark as the Master Cheese. As well it might be. For to everyone who has ever tasted it, this blue cheese is a delight to the palate.

The tuna fish, the grated onion, the delicate flavor of the mushrooms tops the base of cooked rice. The reader possibly thinks of this as a dish worthy of guests, but we say that all of the good menus shouldn't be saved for the company — use them for your own family.

Naturally, the matter of dollars and cents play an important part in the thinking of Mrs. Homemaker. But the everlasting juggling of the food dollar makes a safe landing when the thrifty tuna fish is used as the main ingredient. Just enough of the wonderful cheese is used to give the dish that subtle something.

Serve a crisp mixed green salad or serve carrot straws, wedges of lettuce and crunchy celery. With all of the gorgeous fresh fruit (especially pears) flooding the markets, a dessert of fresh fruit will finish the meal with a flourish.

WAGON WHEEL CASSEROLE

- 1 cup crumbled Danish Blue Cheese (4 oz.)
- 1 cup light cream
- 2 (6 1/2 oz.) cans tuna fish, flaked
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon grated onion
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 2 cups cooked rice

In large bowl, blend Danish Blue Cheese with cream. Add tuna, lemon juice, onion and paprika, blend in rice. Pour into well-buttered one quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350°F) 20 minutes. Garnish with pretzel sticks in wagon wheel style. Serves 4 to 6.

fixing?"

The key to the question is the last provision of the proposed act, the underselling of merchandise.

Opponents of the legislation attack the act by "smear propaganda, identifying it with 'fair trade' and 'price fixing'." Rep. Ray J. Madden, D-Ind., said.

Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., labeled it price fixing.

Rep. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said it isn't.

"I feel in a real sense this is not price fixing... this bill helps the small businessman, not by destroying competition but by strengthening it," he said.

Rep. Samuel Friedel, D-Md., had similar views.

"Such a bill must be enacted into law to protect the consumer," he said. He termed "loss leader" advertising "one of the most unfair kinds of competition."

Lee Loevinger, assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division of the Justice Department, said "this is price fixing legislation and as such is detrimental to the consuming public."

Reiterating the department's traditional opposition to such legislation, he said consumers in states that have state "fair trade" laws pay 19 to 27 per cent higher prices than consumers in states without such laws.

Loevinger said a national price maintenance law would "cost the American consumer billions of dollars and have a powerfully inflationary effect." He denied it would help small business.

Senate to Report Cuba Findings

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Preparedness subcommittee is preparing to issue its report on the Soviet military buildup in Cuba. Reportedly it will blister government agencies for not acting sooner on intelligence reports that the Soviets were bringing in missiles and troops.

The subcommittee is understood to be working out the final wording of the report summarizing what it learned from its investigation of Soviet strength on the island.

Well-placed sources said a major problem now confronting the senators is getting agreement with military and intelligence agencies on whether some language in the report should be amended or stricken to avoid tipping off intelligence secrets.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., conducted its hearings in closed sessions.

The senators reportedly were in agreement on the gist, but not necessarily the exact language, of a finding that Central Intelligence Agency and State and Defense Department evaluations substantially underestimated early intelligence information that the Russians were placing offensive missiles and thousands of men in Cuba.

Photographic evidence obtained by reconnaissance flights over

Cuba last October finally confirmed that the reports were true, the administration has said, and President Kennedy then declared a quarantine on offensive arms shipments to Cuba.

The naval blockade was ended after the Soviet Union removed the "offensive weapons"—missiles and bombers—after days of crisis and the threat of nuclear war.

The October crisis began and ended while Congress was out of session.

Stennis ordered the investigation "to get all the facts" after he and some of Congress members cited reports that Cuba was still a Soviet fortress, stronger than the administration had said.

Macmillan Working for More Talks

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, with a general election in sight, is working hard for a new round of Big Three talks to halt nuclear testing—and to restore his public image as an East-West peacemaker.

The U.S. and British ambassadors to Moscow were scheduled to see Premier Khrushchev today to explore prospects for a high-level meeting to break the deadlock in the negotiations for a test-ban treaty.

In continuing personal exchanges with President Kennedy, Macmillan won Washington's backing for the latest probe, which began quietly last Thursday. Ambassadors Foy Kohler and Sir Humphrey Trevelyan had a talk, then with Soviet Foreign Minister and Andrei Gromyko on the test ban negotiations.

Macmillan has vowed to lead his Conservative followers to a fourth successive victory in Britain's approaching general election — expected within a year. His chances of succeeding depend primarily on more effective policies at home, especially in beating unemployment and reviving the national economy.

But a resounding achievement in foreign policy undoubtedly would help Macmillan tremendously. It would hoist Britain's somewhat battered international prestige. It might lure back disenchanted Tories and attract Liberals whose votes are essential if Macmillan's party is to stay in power.

A test-ban treaty would be a political blessing for Macmillan in other ways. It would silence vocal ban the bomb demonstrators whose persistent campaign embarrasses the government. It would enable Britain to continue as a nuclear power without the cost of expanding that power.

In pursuing his quest Macmillan faces the big problem of finding a bridge for the gap between Washington and Moscow over procedures to enforce a test ban.

Brinkley to Get Renewal Project

BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP)—A federal appropriation of $200,042 for surveys and planning for an urban renewal project in northern Brinkley was announced Tuesday by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark.

Mills notified Albert Rushing, chairman of the Brinkley Housing Authority that $355,008, the amount of preliminary estimates of the project cost, has been reserved in the Federal Housing Authority.

Rushing said the project will be mostly rehabilitation and razing in the largely Negro area.

IMPORTED HAM SANDWICH LOAF

Today's young homemaker, unlike "Mother Hubbard," keeps the cupboards and refrigerator well supplied with foods for family meals and those surprise parties and guests. The modern Mother Hubbard doesn't look for a bone for her dog... she offers him a tidbit from a piece of imported boneless Polish ham. We advocate the policy of keeping two in the refrigerator... one for ready use and one to have on hand so that you're never without this versatile food which can be prepared or served as-is for so many meals and snacks.

This ready cooked, lean, every-bit-edible ham can be sliced, cubed, ground, diced, or served whole, hot or cold for some of the best eating you've ever enjoyed.

Using a little ingenuity and with a few sweeps of the hand, this Party Sandwich Loaf recipe can be prepared like magic. Though the picture suggests a child's party theme, the delicacy is equally welcome to teenagers and older folks. The loaf goes together like long building blocks, the structure held intact with the smooth plastering of cream cheese frosting.

Children, especially, can have great fun by cutting long slivers of cucumber peel to make stems for the canned or cooked apricot flowers decorating the top and (if you wish) around the sides of the loaf. For easier slicing be certain that loaf is made and refrigerated several hours before serving.

PARTY SANDWICH LOAF

1 one-pound loaf unsliced bread, crusts trimmed off. Cut lengthwise in four slices.

To build loaf:

1. Place one slice on cutting board.
2. Butter to edges, cover with 6 slices of imported Polish ham.
3. Cover with second slice of bread. Butter to edges and cover with six slices of American cheese.
4. Cover with third slice of bread. Butter to edges. Spread with chopped hard-cooked eggs moistened with mayonnaise and seasoned to taste.
5. Cover with fourth slice of bread.
6. Frost with: 2-8 oz. packages cream cheese (soften cheese and mix with 1/3 cup cream).

Chill until ready to serve, cut into slices.
